

Sprint is the worst cell phone company. Every month they attempt to get over on billing charges and when I try to access my monthly account or my account summary the service is always down. I wouldn't recommend this company for anyone.